6. Youth Engagement Program (Internship Program):

After the decade long war against terror and restoration of peace as a result of military operations in North Waziristan, the situation demands to properly take care of the youth. This can only be done when the youth is engaged into healthy activities and are groomed in the right direction in best national interest.

Prior to any professional career, capacity of the youth is essential in contributing to improved economic and social outcomes. There is a wide recognition that capacity building and training at any stage of practical and professional life are pre-requisite to economic and social development. Keeping in view the above, the internship program is introduced in North Waziristan to prepare the youth for future challenges in their career development and livelihood earning.

Objective of this program is to help young graduates to develop their intellectual skills and provide them on-job experiences, encouraging them to become contributing, caring members of their communities and also make them acquainted with functioning of government machinery. A total of 150 graduates will be engaged during the life of the project for a period of six months. During this period, they will be practically involved in the functioning of the government machinery at different levels. They will be attached to different departments and industries within the districts.
